The Citizens Advisory Panel has discussed the outpatient element of the strategy. Executive Summary

The Vision and Strategy for Planned Care is required to create the overall ambition for (and framework), in which we can develop new models of planned care. Our current model, particularly with regard to outpatient care, is outdated, unable to meet the population's needs, and not fit for the future.

The strategy is absolutely about increasing prevention, encouraging independence and self-care, offering more care and support in community settings, more care provided by community practitioners, and minimising secondary care intervention. In all, the person is at the centre of all decision making.

The development of a skilled, joined up workforce, including colleagues in the third sector, with the capacity to deliver our new models of care will be the single biggest challenge.

The elements of the strategy are set out in the attached presentation. The principles and the direction of travel are consistent with the new NHS Long Term Plan, but more detailed consideration will be given to this and incorporated into the final version.

Next steps include

- further discussion and engagement, in particular with localities
- reflection on the new Long Term Plan for the NHS,
- completion of a review of current facilities, and development of locality and area based 'blue print'
- translation of the ambition into 19/20 specific priorities across all elements of the strategy

Interdependencies with other work streams (where relevant)	Planned Care is integral to the whole system transformation plan, and will be developed in full alignment with the new model for integrated place based care, urgent care and One Vision for Children's Services.
